Glendale Observes Defense Day

PATRIOTISM FEATURE OF PARADE

Colonel Sutthen Delivers Address to Crowd at Harvard High School

Glendale's man power, over 1000 strong, assembled today in answer to the request of the United States government to participate in the parade that was the outstanding feature of Defense Day, marching south on Brand boulevard from Lexington avenue, the assembly point, to grounds of Harvard street High school, where Colonel Joseph Sutthen, chief executive officer of the 182nd brigade of organized reserves, delivered a brief but impressive address explaining the reasons that prompted the mobilization of the nation's strength.

In Line of March

Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of police, was grand marshal of the parade, and Col. James W. Everington led the first division which included Mayor Spencer Robinson and members of the city government.

Captain Eugene W. Gilliland, vice-commander of the Glendale Legion post No. 127, led the second division, composed of veterans of the nation's wars, civilians of military age ranging in years from 18 to 45, and the representatives of the various civic and fraternal organizations who answered the country's call in the noblest spirit of patriotism.

The floats entered in the parade by the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus attracted commendation from the throngs that lined the sidewalks along the line of march.

Conduct Ceremonies

On arrival at the high school grounds Chaplain James F. McBryde offered a prayer, and Col. Sutthen was introduced by Vice-Commander Gilliland.

The music was furnished by a band selected from among the members of the Elks' and Sciots' bands, and, during the exercises at the school grounds, a number of patriotic airs were played, with Mrs. Roy Biddlecom, 108 Virginia place, singing a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb.

In response to the request that has been issued by those in charge of the Defense Day plans, Glendale employers released as many of their employes as possible to permit them to share in the demonstration and to march in the parade.

Besides the big Y. M. C. A. sign, four floats were entered, showing the four phases of the organization's work, the spiritual, intellectual, physical and social development of the boys, and the old covered wagon, with the pioneers marching in its wake, tupified the pioneer organization of the city.

The Red Cross work was exemplified in the float entered by this organization, and the Knights of Columbus entered a replica of a war-time dugout as their contribution.

Estimates placed the number of those who marched in the parade at 1,500, but many of these dropped out as soon as the High school grounds were reached, hastening back to their places of business.

Col. Sutthen recalled the fact

POLICE AND FIRE BODIES DISBAND

Form Two Associations to Carry on Work of Local Departments

The Policemen's and Firemen's Relief association was disbanded yesterday afternoon at a meeting held at Station No. 1 of the Glendale fire department, and two separate organizations were created, the $2000 on hand in the treasury being evenly divided between the two organizations.

Lieutenant W. J. Royle of the Glendale police department was elected president of the Policemen's Reliief association; Captain W. A. Loving, vice president; Desk Sergeant J. D. Cole, secretary-treasurer, and Merle Collins, W. Hedricks and S. C. Hamilton, directors.

Elect Officers

Captain R. E. Dodsworth of the Glendale fire department, was elected president of the Firemen's Relief association; Captain J. D. Meyer, vice president; Captain T. V. Philp, secretary; H. L. Chrisman, treasurer; and four directors, to be appointed one from each station.

The former association was disbanded because the growth of local police and fire departments since its organization two years ago had made it unwieldy, according to Lieutenant Royle, who, with Captain Dodsworth, numbered himself among the organiers.

CEREMONIES AT CHURCH PLANNED

Cornerstone to Be Placed by Lutherans at Services Sunday Afternoon

Marking another attainment during this year in Glendale church life, will be the laying of the cornerstone Sunday afternoon of the new auditorium at the First Lutheran church at 231-233 South Kenwood street, near Colorado.

Already the Lutheran church people have enjoyed accomplishment, for they moved their old church building from East Harvard, near Brand boulevard, to the South Kenwood site; built a two-story residence for the pastor and built an annex for the church.

Officials Present

Sunday is anticipated as an interesting date by young and old of the congregation.

Rev. Oscar H. Gruver of Oakland, treasurer of the synod of California, and Dr. George H. Hillerman of Berkeley, general superintendent of the western district of the board of home missions for the United Lutheran church, will give messages at the Sunday morning service at 10:45 o'clock.

Dr. Hillerman will give the address at the laying of the cornerstone at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Special Music

The auditorium, which is of the Spanish mission type, is one of which the church people may be justly proud.

Special music has been arranged for both services. In the morning there will be: Anthem, "Be Joyful in God," by choir; duet, "Matchless Grace," by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Schlotzhaur. In the afternoon Harry Niebank will sing "The Lord Is My Light" and the choir will sing "We Give Thanks."

Bond Committee Will Meet This Afternoon

The postponed meeting of the executive committee of the Citizens' Bond committee will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, when it is hoped to secure a quorum to plan for the campaign that is to be carried on preparatory to the special election on September 30, when the various bond issues will be submitted to the voters of Glendale.

LEGION NEARING CONVENTION CITY

California Delegates Travel To St. Paul on Solid Special Train

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 12.—California's delegation, 200 strong, is prepared to take St. Paul by storm Monday morning when the sixth annual convention of the American Legion will open in the northern city. The delegation from Southern California, which left the Union Pacific station at Los Angeles yesterday afternoon aboard a special train, was joined here by the Northern California delegation, assembled at San Francisco, and the Californians will make the journey from here to St. Paul aboard a solid special train.

The delegation from Northern California left San Francisco yesterday morning on their special train, with National Commander John R. Quinn as one of the party. Acting as official escort to the national commander are Nathan F. Coombs, of Napa, state commander; James K. Fisk, state adjutant; Phil C. Katz, supervisor of San Francisco, who is a Congressional Medal of Honor man, and other noted Californians, to say nothing of the San Francisco post band, winners of first prize last year.

Welcomed in Utah

At Salt Lake City the delegation from Southern California was met by Legionnaires of the Salt Lake posts and royally entertained at the depot. At Ogden the delegates were welcomed by the members of Legion posts in Northern Utah and taken for an automobile ride about the city. Various points of interest were visited, one of the places pointed out with pride by the Ogden residents being the new Union depot built recently to replace the structure destroyed by fire last year.

The trip across the Great Salt Lake early this afternoon on the lengthy causeway was a novel part of the journey to the delegates, as was the view of Copper Mountain, a monstrous deposit of low-grade copper bordering the lake on the south.

Lots of Mascots

At Salt Lake City this afternoon the band from Southern California aboard the special train gave a concert at the depot, and another concert was given at Ogden. Some of the delegates participated in the Defense Day parade at Ogden, the two bands taking part in the activities staged during the special's brief stop.

The special is well fixed in the way of mascots, the Northern California delegation having a live California bear on board when they reach Ogden, while the Southern California delegation started out yesterday with an ostrich, which has been dubbed "Rudy."

Fully equipped cafeterias are functioning at both schools.

Plans for an additional concrete grandstand unit, drawn up by John C. Austin, Frederic M. Ashley and George M. Lindsay, have been approved and Irving H. Oliver, business manager, has been authorized to advertise for bids. This unit will afford dressing rooms for the girls.

ASSOCIATION FOR CHANGE IN NAME

Northwest Organization In Meeting Last Night Votes For New Title

The Fourth Street Improvement association, in session last night, decided to change its name to Greater Northwest Improvement association.

The City Council, at its meeting yesterday, having changed the name of Fourth street, as well as all of the other streets forming the new crosstown boulevard, to Glenoaks boulevard, it became necessary for the association at its meeting last night to consider a new name.

As there already is a Glenoaks Improvement association on the east side of Glendale, it was decided to change the name to that of Greater Northwest Improvement association—and this name was unnanimously carried.

While the association has made important progress in connecton with this new boulevard, there still is considerable work to do, and this can be carried on by those who have been in closest touch with this project, and from the balance of the members can be chosen committees dealing with other important problems in the northwest section.

Talk By Judge Lowe

Police Judge Lowe gave an address relative to the bond election and other matters of especial interest to the northwest section. A hearty applause and a vote of thanks were extended Judge Lowe.

Several citizens who, it was explained, are not members of the association, were present, and it is declared by the publicity representative of the organization, took the floor and attacked the Citizens' Bond committee for the manner in which the committee conducted its delibrations. The sentiments so expressed did not, it is declared, meet with the approval of the members of the association.

The association went on record as against the establishing of a business section on Tenth street opposite the reservoir as the property in this locality is all high-class residential property and while the reservoir is not the most desirable thing to have there, still it is obvious that the addition of small stores, fruit stands, etc.,

PEKING MASSING TROOPS AT WALL

Government Preparing to Meet Threatened Attack By Invading Force

PEKING, Sept. 12.—To meet the menace of an invasion from the north by Chang Tso Lin's forces, the Peking government today began massing troops along the great wall.

Through traffic between Peking and Japan was cut off today when the Peking-Mukden railroad discontinued the sale of tickets to points north of Shan Haikuan. They explained that due to heavy troop movements north of that point by Chang Tso Lin traffic had been interrupted.

Peking was under semi-martial law today. This step was taken the government said, to prevent the spread of disquieting rumors.

Glendale Saxophone Player Must Also Study School Books

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—Richardson D. White, superintendent of Glendale city schools, appealed to the county counsel's office for a ruling in the case of Adeline Woodbury, aged 12, talented danseuse and saxophone player of Glendale and Pasadena.

The girl's mother applied for permission to keep Adeline out of school in order that she may devote her time to saxophone playing and practice.

Deputy County Counsel Roy Dowds is replying that while there is need for greater ability among saxophone players and that the study of music is commendable, it will be necessary for Adeline to have a private tutor unless she attends school.

TELLS COOLIDGE CAMPAIGN STAND

President Will Stress Main Principles In Talks Before Election

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Special Correspondent of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—President Coolidge feels that the lines of battle have been drawn and that no new factors will be thrust into the campaign—at least so far as he is concerned.

Mr. Coolidge holds what may truly be called a "common sense" viewpoint toward his political fortunes. Occasional addresses will be made but they will be largely in amplification and explanation of the main principles that already have been laid down by the president.

The president has been getting letters of all kinds and advices from all quarters with respect to the importance of the Klan as an issue in the national campaign.

Coolidge Attitude

Mr. Coolidge feels that he cannot forget for an instant, that he is president of the United States and that he must pursue for the campaign, an attitude which does not involve him in the mire of politics itself.

The president has a fixed idea that most of the discussion of the Ku Klux Klan is academic and that it does not touch the chief executive or the powers of the federal government. As for the theory that a president should not apply any religious test in making appointments to office, Mr. Coolidge is of the opinion that his own record, both as governor of Massachusetts and as president, will be sufficient answer on that score.

Farm Clearing House

In respect to agriculture, the president has it in mind to make the proposed agricultural commission a clearing house for all ideas on the subject of agricultural relief. He is aware that the board itself will not complete its work until after the election but he is hopeful that something concrete may be worked out before the next session of congress so that whatever is determined upon may soon be put into legislative form.

WINS TENNIS TITLE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Fifteen-year-old Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Cal., reputed to be a second Helen Wills, won the national girls' title this afternoon.

RESERVES TO RESCUE OF MONROVIA DISTRICT

Manufacturing Plants and Business Houses Give Employes to Fight

BULLETIN

Declaring he could put down the raging fire in Angeles forest in three days' time, Charles M. Hatfield of Glendale, Cal., "rainmaker," offered today to perform his work for cost.

Hatfield said he would guarantee ten one-hundredths inch of rain, and said he thought he could bring from one and one-half to two inches of moisture.

"The rainmaker" asserted he would place his offer before forestry officials.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—Manufacturing plants and business houses in Azusa, Sierra Madre, El Monte, Monrovia and other foothill towns were almost denuded of workmen today as rangers began conscripting man power on a wholesale scale to combat the fire in the Angeles forest, now burning at the edge of the Monrovia watershed.

Approximately 1000 men streamed into the fire area, bringing the strength of the county crews now on duty up to approximately 1500 men. Federal fire crews now number close to 500 men, while another 1000 fire fighters will be drafted during the present emergency in an attempt to avert the destruction of the area now threatened by the blaze.

New Fire Break

The reserves were rushed to concentration camps located at strategic points, while forestry officials and members of the county Board of Supervisors conferred upon the location of a new fire break west of the one from Fish canyon to Devil's canyon, seventeen miles in length, which has been crossed by the flames.

The new fire break, according to tentative plans, will be from twelve to eighteen miles in length and will be cleared for an average width of fifty feet, it was announced. The fire break that failed to halt the flaming tide yesterday had an average width of twenty-eight feet.

Dancing Masters Learning Some More Jazz Steps

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12—Just as though jazz isn't jazzier now than ever before. The California Teachers of Dancing in session here have agreed to introduce the flappers and floppers to the Parisian tango, the slippery waltz, the Raggedy Ann fox trot, all of which slides, ecstatic pauses, whirls and footwork are guaranteed to enable those adept in their steps to miss death by motor traffic while playing the role of pedestrian.

Miss Hulda Hanker, recently from Paris, is putting the dancing masters through the new steps each morning. Business sessions at which legislation for public dance halls is considered also, are a feature of the convention interesting those who keep the world stepping lively every evening.

General Pershing, on Eve of Retirement, Gets Farewells

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The army is saying "Goodbye" today to General John J. Pershing.

At noon tomorrow, after forty-two consecutive years of service, General Pershing will retire from the army and formally relinquish his post as chief of staff. His retirement comes, not of his own volition, but because of the unchanging military rule which retires all members of the army automatically at the age of 64. General Pershing will observe his 64th birthday tomorrow.

There will be no formal ceremonies to mark General Pershing's retirement from the army and from the office he has held since August 31, 1920. This is in accordance with military custom and with the personal desires of the general, who wishes to avoid all unneccessary formalities.

General Pershing will be succeeded by Major-General John L. Hines, who has been deputy chief of staff for several years.

CHARACTER PARTY BY PENDROY CLUB

Members In Strange Dress Enjoy Program, Dancing And Refreshments

A suspicious looking crowd of queerly dressed individuals were seen loitering about the Pendroy store last night about 7:30 o'clock and they were watched with no little concern by passersby.

Their presence gave rise to such speculation that a telephone message was sent Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pendroy, who hurried to the store, arriving just in time to hear the strains of "Hail, Hail, The Gang's All Here" coming from the third floor, and to find all their employes, in weird and fantastic costumes, marching up the stairs for the hard times part of the Pendroy Progressive club.

Varied Characters

Weary Willie, Sis Hopkins, Clarence Percival, Dago Pete, gypsy maids and rural folk were all there for the jolly affair.

F. A. McNeil, president of the club, led the procession to the third floor, where dancing, a program and refreshments were features.

Beginning the dancing was a grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. Pendroy. A Virginia reel was also included in the program.

Pleasing Program

In charge of the program were Mrs. L. E. Bartholmew, N. C. Smith and E. C. Carter. Mrs. Bartholmew was mistress of ceremonies, introducing Mr. Carter, who greeted his disguised fellow workers; Mr. McNeil, who gave a humorous history of California; William Blatchford in a dramatic sketch; a dancing number by Mrs. Smiley, Miss Nair, Miss Van Gilsey and Mrs. Sutton; William Tolman in a recitation; gypsy dance by Hazel Read; selections by Mr. Straus, leader of the orchestra; stories by John Swearingen.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Helen Tolman as a gypsy and Mr. Morse as Dago Pete.

Lunches arranged in attractive boxes by the women, were drawn for. A toast was given by Mrs. Tolman, with response by Mr. Pendroy.

FEDERATION PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Members Hear Talks From Schools' Representatives; Offer Suggestions

Glendale is to sustain its splendid reputation in state and district Parent-Teacher association affairs throughout the coming year, if plans formulated yesterday at the first meeting of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher association, at 323 North Brand boulevard, are carried out.

Features of the meeting were the naming of the executive board; decision to publish a year book; announcement of chairmen; greetings from Mrs. George U. Moyse, dean of girls of the Glendale Union High school; greetings from Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, and a talk by R. Ernest Tucker, representing the city park board.

Suggest Year Book

The president and secretary of the federation serve on the executive board, and the three additional members named yesterday were Mesdames Mae Rosenberg, A. H. Brown and E. B. Moore.

Plans were suggested for publishing a year book early in October, under the direction of Mesdames W. C. Leach, W. R. Kugler and Arthur Franklin.

In her greetings Mrs. Moyse stated that 2000 pupils are registered at the Glendale Union High school. Of this number 700 are at the Harvard High school. She spoke particularly of the uniform dress of the girls, praising the fine spirit displayed among the girls of all classes.

Mr. White, in greeting the Parent-Teacher association leaders, said: "I want to compliment the Glendale federation on the harmony existing in the organization. You know we have to learn

Miss Marjorie Yarick And Hoyt Curtis Wed In Bower Of Charming Fall Flowers

Large Company Of Friends Present At Ceremony

Charm of home atmosphere dominated the wedding last night, Thursday, September 11, 1924, of Miss Marjorie Yarick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yarick, to Hoyt Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Curtis of El Monte. Over 100 relatives and friends were bidden to the ceremony, which took place at 8:30 o'clock at the Yarick home, 347 West Wilson avenue.

Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, pastor of the First Congregational church, in which the bride's family is one of prominence, officiated.

The vows were taken in the living room, where palms and other potted plants, tall baskets of pink dahlias, white and pink asters and soft shaded lights were combined in an attractive setting.

In Bridal Party

Bridal songs were sung before the ceremony by Miss Gladys White, Mrs. Gretna Cordary of Glendale, and Mr. Curtis' sister, Miss Mildred Curtis. Mrs. Roberta T. Young was the accompanist. Miss White sang "I Did Not Know"; Mrs. Cordary, "Homing," and Miss Curtis, "Because."

Mrs. Eugene Murman of Glendale played the Mendelssohn wedding march.

Miss Yarick chose as her attending maid Miss Harriett Karns of Pasadena, who wore a gown of soft ultramarine shade and carried an arm arrangement of pink roses. Ramona Curtis, another sister of Mr. Curtis, was the flower girl. Her little dress was of pink taffeta. She carried a basket filled with rose petals. Jean Ingram and Doris Armstrong held the white satin ribbons that formed the aisle for the bridal party. Ross Dinsmoor of El Monte was Mr. Curtis' best man.

Miss Yarick entered alone. Her gown was of white silk crepe and silk lace. Instead of a veil she wore a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and fern.

Assist at Ceremony

Mrs. Yarick was assisted in receiving by Mr. Curtis' mother, Mrs. William Curtis of El Monte. Assisting in serving were Misses Marjorie Courtney, Florence Curtis and Mildred Hicks.

Among the wedding guests were the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hesser of Sacramento.

At a late hour Mr. and Mrs. Curtis left by motor for a honeymoon trip and upon their return will reside temporarily at the Yarick home, as Mrs. Yarick is planning to go north to remain with her sons during the winter term of school at Carmel-by-the-Sea. For traveling, Mrs. Curtis wore a sport dress of poudre blue with hat in harmonizing shade.

Romance at College

The marriage follows a Pomona college romance. Both Mr. and Mrs. Curtis attended Pomona. Mr. Curtis, who was prominent as a member of the Phi Delta fraternity, graduated in 1923.

Mrs. Curtis has a wide friendship in Glendale where her family is well known and where she attended Glendale schools, graduating from the Glendale Union High school. She is a talented musician, and during the past few months, has received much recognition for her work as a member of the "Virginia Four Quartet," composed of pupils of Virginia Freeman. Many pre-nuptial honors have complimented her, and she and Mr. Curtis were the recipients of many lovely gifts from friends in Glendale and other cities.

MRS. HOYT CURTIS, former Miss Marjorie Yarick, who became a bride last night at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yarick of 347 West Wilson.

AUTO CAMP ACTION IS DELAYED

Council Asks Merchants to Decide Question With Entire Membership

The application of E. Holland to conduct an auto camp at the corner of San Fernando road and Riverdale drive was referred back to the Glendale Merchants' association, at yesterday's session of the City Council, with the request that it be presented to the association's membership in open session for consideration and report.

The executive committee of the Glendale Merchants' association had previously considered this application, at the request of the council, and had returned it with the recommendation that it be not granted. The association also adopted a resolution that an auto camp at that particular location is not desirable, recommending that the council uphold the stand it had previously taken and refuse to grant the permit.

Make Personal Plea

This resolution further asked that the council recognize the emergency arising from tourist travel through the city and proceed at once to construct and operate a municipal auto camp.

In furtherance of this request L. H. Wilson and H. M. Butts of the Glendale Merchants' association appeared before the council at yesterday's session and personally requested that steps be taken to found such a camp.

This at once precipitated an argument between Mr. Wilson and Councilman S. A. Davis, the latter declaring: "There are two reasons why we can't open a municipal auto camp: we have no place to put it and we have no money to put it with."

No Funds for Camp

Councilman C. E. Kimlin requested a report from Virgil B. Stone, city manager, on the advisability of going into the project at this time, and Mr. Stone stated that before such a step could be taken, the legal status would have to be cleared up and there would have to be funds in the city treasury for the purpose, on neither of which he could at present report in the affirmative.

The council referred the matter of a municipal auto camp to Mr. Stone for his further consideration and report.

Judging by expressions from city officials, there is no hope of having a municipal camp established in the near future and, it is predicted, the matter of a privately-owned camp will have to be again fought out. Mr. Holland declares that he is ready to comply with the provisions of the city ordinance regulating auto camps.

'Y' SPEAKERS TO TALK AT CHURCHES

Various Congregations to Hear Some Reasons for Need of Institution

The first public activities of the Y. M. C. A. $275,000 campaign will occur Sunday in the observance of "Young Men's Day" in the co-operating churches of the city when representatives of the Y. M. C. A. will address the various congregations. There will, however, be no financial solicitation in connection with any of the church services.

H. L. Finlay, chairman of the committee of arrangements for speakers, announced this morning the following assignments for Sunday morning:

CHARLES C. CHAPMAN of Fullerton, president of the state association of the Y. M. C. A., will address the congregation at the Central Christian church.

EATON T. SAMS of Los Angeles, associate state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and a prominent Episcopalian, will speak at the St. Mark's Episcopal church.

CHARLES A. GUMMERE of the University of Southern California, has been assigned to the pulpit of the Glendale Presbyterian church.

FRANK A. JACKSON, general secretary of the Pasadena Y. M. C. A. and formerly state Y. M. C. A. secretary for Florida, is to speak in the First Baptist church.

JUDGE WILLIAM THOMAS of Santa Ana will be present at the First Methodist church.

J. GUSTAV WHITE, director of education for the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., is to speak at the Central Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. White was a notable figure in Y. M. C. A. work during the war, being one of the first men to go overseas. He worked among the allied prisoners of war in Germany until the United States entered the war and then leaving

WHITTIER COLLEGE HEAD DELIVERS MAIN ADDRESS

Program of One Minute Talks by Number of Glendale People During Which Pledges of Service to City Are Offered

The first open forum meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce of the present season went over with a bang last night when more than 300 guests thronged the banquet hall of the Oakmont Country club to pledge their support to the organization and to hear Dr. Walter H. Dexter, president of Whittier college, deliver a masterly oration on "The Philosophy of Friendship," in which he pointed out that only through sympathy and service can the people of this country attain to security in the life of American democracy.

The guests on their arrival were welcomed by the reception committee, headed by Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and composed of the executive officers of the various women's clubs and of the wives of the presidents of the various men's organizations and service clubs.

Give Club Songs

Following the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, led by Attorney Owen C. Emery, and the invocation by Rev. E. E. Ford, pastor of the First Baptist church, Vice-President D. H. Smith of the Chamber of Commerce introduced the chairman of the evening, A. L. Ferguson, chairman of the entertainment committee and vice-principal of the Glendale Union High school.

During the dinner the Rotary, Exchange and Kiwanis clubs each rendered their club songs, these being the only extra stunts on the program.

The fifteen one-minute speakers loyally held themselves down to the time allotted to them on the program, each one of them pledging the organizations they represented to support and co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce for the building of a bigger, better and cleaner Glendale.

List of Speakers

Those who spoke for the various organizations were: Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Tuesday Afternoon club; Peter Hanson, Glendale Realty board; R. E. Johnston, Exchange club; Mrs. M. C. Newton, Thursday Afternoon club; Joseph Wilson, American Legion; J. Herbert Smith, Rotary club; Dr. Jessie A. Russell, Business and Professional Women's club; C. J. Hatz, Glendale Merchants' association; A. L. Baird, Kiwanis club; Mrs. Frank Parr, College Women's club; Lyman P. Clark, Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association; Dr. H. R. Boyer, Optimist club; Ed N. Radke, Advertising club; Dr. Harry V. Brown, acting for Dr. O. A. Dietrich, Physicians' club, and Attorney Bert P. Woodard, Glendale Bar association.

Ernest L. Mogge, campaign director of the Y. M. C. A. drive for $275,000 to erect a building in Glendale, declared that Glendale's paramount problem is the character training of its youth. The Chamber of Commerce, he said, is the centralizing factor in the material development of the community; the church is the main factor in the development of the religious life; and the Y. M. C. A. is a recognized branch of the work of the church, and he closed with a plea that the people of Glendale "make some of their money make manhood."

Make Dream Come True

"Don't let tonight be the last indication of your fidelity to the Chamber of Commerce" was the plea of Secretary Howard I. Wood. "It rests with the people of today what the world of fifty years hence will think of Glendale, and this city's rapid growth

Daily Greeting To News Readers

When the clear, broad light of eternity shines upon life's crooked paths, we shall see the snares and pitfalls from which our hedge of thorns has fenced us in; and, in the maturity of our full-grown faith, we shall exultingly say: "Father, not as I will, but as Thou wilt."—Fanny Fern.

KEEPING UP WITH MOTHER

One of our most eminent women authors, who resides in Los Angeles, is becoming alarmed because women are outgrowing their husbands. On account of increased incomes and labor-saving apparatus in the home, women have so much leisure time which they are using to cultivate their minds and to improve their appearance that they are far outstripping the men. The tact and culture which result from church and club work, and the poise that comes with wavy, glossy hair and a becoming gown, have put mother far ahead of father.

It used to be that father, with his contacts in business and in club life, was charged with outgrowing mother, who had no interests beyond her home and her housekeeping. And now, the situation has been reversed, according to this writer, who says she cannot think of one man of her acquaintance who is superior to his wife in appearance, education, tact and self-assurance. The man is so busy keeping his nose to the grindstone in order to pay the bills, that he has no time to polish his intellect in contact with other minds as he used to do.

"There are very many women," says this writer, "who are seeking divorces outright, or who are talking about 'incompatibility' and the beginning of their cause of complaint lies in the fact that while the men were earning the money, the women have been developing their beauty, cultivating their brains, and acquiring tact and poise that make them want to discard the mechanical, old-fashioned men to whom they are married, and link their fortunes the rest of the way with men who can speak a grammatical brand of English, who know how to conduct themselves on social occasions, who can stand up and make a reasonably dignified and appealing speech upon any subject they are called upon to tackle."

My land, what kind of culture is it that our women are absorbing in the clubs that makes them want to divorce the family check book? Can't they see that this man they want to link their fortunes with for the rest of the way, though he may be their equal educationally and socially, may not be able to give them their leisure to continue the pursuit of beauty and culture?

All this is rather foolish. There is no couple exactly equal in all the qualities of mind and heart. Sometimes one and sometimes the other excells. But, an observation of club work would make it seem like an equalizing influence, giving women an interest in the things that already interest the men and providing common ground on which to stand.

WHY NOT DIRECT ELECTION?

There is a plea heard on all sides for the abolition of the antiquated, outgrown and practically defunct electoral college and the substitution of direct election of the President of the United States. Why should not the nominee receiving the most votes throughout the country be declared elected? Any other method seems hopelessly ridiculous in a country of such magnitude and importance as the United States.

The country is menaced now by the possibility that the election will be thrown into Congress and the choice made by these politicians, it is almost certain, would not be the choice of the people, a contingency that would be eliminated under direct election.

Under the present system, in states where the opposition party is in a conceded majority the voter must feel that his ballot does not count—and indeed it does not. The direct system would do away with the concentration of political campaigns in a few pivotal states and would quicken political life all over the country. No doubt it would awaken many of the election-day slackers.

The party convention system has become little more than a farce. Whatever we may think of the merits of the candidates we must admit that John W. Davis was not the choice of the Democratic party. Under a more direct system it is pretty certain that William G. McAdoo would have been the nominee of the Democrats. The same thing was true in the Republican convention four years ago. Warren G. Harding was not the choice of the party. Frank O. Lowden and Herbert Hoover were the popular candidates.

CANAL TEN YEARS OLD

It has been pointed out that, though we heard much about the tenth anniversary of the beginning of the great war, there was little or nothing said about the decennial of the Panama canal, which was opened to traffic August 14, 1914, and which was the greatest peace time achievement in history. The building of the canal, a constructive work, as against the era of destruction that opened in Europe at the same time, stands as a monument to Theodore Roosevelt, one of the greatest Americans, a much more worth-while and lasting memorial than leadership in the war could have brought him.

The Panama canal carries more tonnage than the Suez, which was opened fifty-five years ago. The total cost of the canal is placed at $375,000,000 and the interest on the bonds is about twelve million annually. The United States pays the government of Panama $250,000 annually for relinquishment of the title. Revenue for the first six months of 1924 was $24,000,000. For the last fiscal year the surplus for sinking fund and applying to past deficits is more than $7,500,000, after deducting rental to Panama, interest on bonds and cost of operation. It is likely that the showing for the balance of this year will be still more gratifying, and it is expected that within the next fifteen years the entire cost of the project will be returned to the treasury of the United States.

Is not this a vindication of the foresight and courage and energy of Roosevelt in the face of tremendous obstacles, opposition and ridicule?

LOOK OUT FOR THE SCOUTS

Those who do not wish to vote in November will have to take to the tall timber, for the Boy Scouts are after them. This organization is the latest to enlist in the work of getting the voters to the polls. The movement is non-partisan, has been endorsed by all three presidential candidates, and will, no doubt, lead to good results, for what the Boy Scouts go after they get. It will have a good effect, also, in teaching the boys the duties of citizenship. It is estimated that about 700,000 Scouts and 2,000,000 former Scouts will engage in this important and patriotic work.

OUR NEW DRUM MAJOR

Nature

By DR. FRANK CRANE

When we speak of Nature we do not speak of what we can see, but of something behind that which we see.

Nature is in no hurry. It is only mankind that hurries.

There are many things very beautiful in Nature, but many things grotesque, such as the monsters of the sea.

When painters reproduce a little bit of Nature they are highly gratified, yet Nature paints the most superb pictures constantly, whether there are those to see them or not.

All that lives comes from Nature. She seems to be rhythmic as to her lives. She produces plants in their season, and men in their generations, but the race continues.

Very little first-class literature has been written under the direct inspiration of Nature. Nature is usually too strong for the writers.

It is characteristic of Nature that it goes on while life stops. Nature has her ebb and flow, but it is eternal. It was here before we arrived; it will be here when we have gone.

There is nothing moral nor immoral in Nature. She has her own morality.

There is infinite variety in Nature, and yet the strictest adherence to law.

There is abundance, generosity and waste in Nature, yet there is no waste. The leaves of the tree return to soil from which they came. Whatever Nature produces may fail in its object, but it succeeds in some other object.

Nature produces nothing that is alive and also straight. Her sign manual is the curved line for living things. Among dead things I do not know of anything straight which Nature produces except quartz.

Nature is discordant and minor; and yet those who are accustomed to listen to her know that she is deeply musical.

The most beautiful objects of Nature depend upon water, for it is water that makes the clouds, the colors of the sunset and of the sea.

All obey Nature, yet is she not masterful or petulant.

Two of the greatest men who ever lived have had for their motto "Return to Nature." One was the Frenchman, Rousseau, and the other was the Chinaman, Lao Tzu.

Lao Tzu said:

"The highest goodness is like water, for water is excellent and benefiting all things, yet it does not strive. It occupies the lowest place which men abhor."

We do not understand Nature because we do not understand water.

Lao Tzu says again:

"There is something chaotic, yet complete, which existed before heaven and earth. It stands alone without change, reaching everywhere without suffering harm. It must be regarded as the mother of the universe. Its name I do not know. Endeavoring to describe it I call it Great."

Horoscope

Threatening stars rule today, according to astrology. Saturn and Jupiter are both in malefic aspect.

Clashes between capital and labor are again strongly indicated, but labor is to be fortunate in gaining points.

Power for a leader of organized industry and great growth of financial power among workers are forecast.

It has been often told that in this new era old things are passing away, and for that reason whatever is reactionary can exist but a few years.

This prophecy of progress appears to indicate that in politics, conservatism might win for a time, but only for a brief period.

Again a royal betrothal is foretold for England, but it may not be the Prince of Wales.

The position of Venus is read by London astrologers as denoting turmoil in the House of Commons, radicals and socialists probably causing trouble.

At this time the United States probably will strongly reflect whatever happens in Great Britain.

Serious earthquakes are prophesied for Italy, and American tourists may suffer death in one of them.

Revolutionary indications may disturb Russian international relations at this time.

Education is well directed and colleges should benefit especially from the rule of the stars.

Persons whose birthdate it is should avoid new enterprises in the coming year. The year may be disturbing, especially to those of sentimental proclivities.

Children born on this day may meet with many unusual experiences in life. Girls should choose wisely when they marry, because divorces are common among these subjects of Virgo.

Wood for pianos used in the tropics must be solid, without veneer, and insect proof, the leather and felts must be impregnated with insect poison and the keys covered with celluloid.

Today's Poem

THE TOIL OF THE TRAIL

What have I gained by the toil of the trail?
I know and know well.
I have found once again the love I had lost
In the loud city's hell.

I have broadened my hand to the cinch and the axe,
I have laid my flesh to the rain;
I was hunter and trailer and guide;
I have touched the most primitive wilderness again.

I have threaded the wild with the stealth of the deer,
No eagle is freer than I;
No mountain can thwart me, no torrent appall,
I defy the stern sky.
So long as I live these joys will remain,
I have touched the most primitive wilderness again.

—Hamlin Garland.

YOU TELLEM, LIZ!

"I just love men with red hair."

"You do? Well, for a good time, give me the men with green backs."

JUST AS GOOD

A man went into Cohen's book store and asked: "Have you a copy of 'Who's Who' and 'What's What,' by James K. Jerome?"

Cohen replied: "No, sir, but we got 'Who's He?' and 'Vat's He Got?' by Bradstreet."

NO RISK AT ALL

He had risked his life to rescue the fair maid from a watery grave, and, of course, her father was duly grateful.

"Young man," he said, "I can never thank you sufficiently for your heroic act. You incurred an awful risk in saving my only daughter."

"None whatever, sir," replied the amateur lifesaver; "I am already married."

Who's Who

A few days ago the cables from Paris brought a brief message announcing that Paul Wayland Bartlett, American sculptor, had been honored in Paris by being chosen commander of the Legion of Honor by the French government.

This honor was bestowed upon him in recognition of his distinguished services to international art.

Paul Bartlett is a New Englander by birth. He was born in New Haven, Conn., and his father was also of New England birth, a Bostonian. His ancestry dates back to the Mayflower Pilgrims.

Bartlett is known as the sculptor of the great equestrian statue of Lafayette, which stands at the entrance to the Louvre. A replica of this statue has also been erected at Metz.

Only recently there was unveiled the first model of his statue of Sir William Blackstone, internationally known as a great authority in law. This statue is the gift of the American Bar Association to the British Bar Association. The sculptor is now engaged upon the task of completing this masterpiece in his Paris studio. The statue will be cast in bronze.

Bathing in unprotected or unsupervised localities undoubtedly is the cause of most summer drowning fatalities, declares an authority of the National Safety council.

Pullman car windows were purposely made hard to open in order to cut down possibility of drafts, it recently has been admitted, but hereafter all cars will be equipped with a special lever-like device that will pry them from the sill.

imposes on us today a responsibility greater than that which rests on other and older communities. Let us take the best that other cities can give us, rejecting the undesirable things, and let us dare to dream of a Glendale bigger and better than we have even yet hoped for, and make that dream come true."

"Behind the development of every city there lies a philosophy," said Dr. Dexter, in opening his address, "and behind the success of Glendale there lies a philosophy of life and friendship. The three great factors in the development of the United States have been and are education, the law and the church, and what the world needs is a sympathetic understanding. Not only the sympathy for the person in the depths of despair, but sympathy for the man at the height of human achievement.

Follow Higher Ideals

"The big question for this country to answer is not whether it is richer or more powerful than its neighbors, but whether it is a better country than it was, itself, a year ago, whether it is more worth living in and whether it is striving to follow higher ideals than it ever has before.

"Sympathy for the individual, service to the community and the nation, will bring that security that will establish the life of American democracy."

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery informed Vice-President D. H. Smith, at the close of the program, that the Tuesday Afternoon club's board of directors had agreed to sponsor the October open forum meeting and to prepare the program for that occasion.

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson read a communication addressed to the presiding officer of the National Exchange Clubs of the United States, which will convene in Nashville, Tenn., on September 22, commending the Glendale delegate, R. E. Johnston, president of the local club, to the watchful care of the Exchange convention. Mr. Johnston will leave for Nashville Sunday.

Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty board, invited those present at last night's open forum meeting to attend the Home-Town contest to be held in the Harvard street High school on Thursday, September 18.

Owen C. Emery and R. Ernest Tucker, of Community Service, had charge of the community singing, with Mrs. H. R. Boyer acting as accompanist.

'Y' Speakers to Talk At Glendale Churches

Germany he worked among German prisoners in France. After the war Mr. White was the directing genius in the development of the United Y. M. C. A. schools which enrolled more young men than were in all the Protestant colleges in this country.

PHILEMON BEVIS, formerly general secretary of the St. Louis Y. M. C. A. and now resident in Glendale, will fill the pulpit of the Congregational church.

FRED L. DYE, general secretary of the Hollywood Y. M. C. A., is scheduled at the Gospel Tabernacle.

RALPH G. COLE, an outstanding leader in boys' work in Southern California and serving as state director of boys' work for the Y. M. C. A., has been assigned to the Tropico Presbyterian church. Mr. Cole resides in Los Angeles, but his work takes him into all the cities and towns of California.

H. V. ADAMS of Glendale, well-known Chautauqua lecturer, will speak Sunday morning at the Broadway Methodist church.

DR. JOHN ANDERSON, member of the Y. M. C. A. executive committee for the Glendale district, is the speaker for the Pacific Avenue Methodist church. Dr. Anderson is one of the most enthusiastic workers to secure an association building for Glendale.

W. A. HORN, well-known Glendale business man and former Y. M. C. A. secretary at Honolulu and in several cities in this country, has two appointments. Sunday morning he speaks before the congregation at the Casa Verdugo M. E. church and Saturday night at the Seventh-day Adventist church.

The visiting speakers will meet at the campaign headquarters at 10 o'clock Sunday morning for a devotional conference and will lunch together after the church services.

Sunday night Ernest L. Mogge of Chicago, international Y. M. C. A. secretary, co-operating in the leadership of the local building campaign, will speak at the Glendale Presbyterian church, but not on Y. M. C. A. work. Secretary Mogge will give a gospel address on the theme, "The Three Circles."

Cryptic Address Is Easy for P. O. Clerks

The ability of the local postoffice staff to decipher cryptic addresses on letters going through the office is shown by the safe delivery of a letter that bore the inscription "Messrs. H. S. and Associates, Glendale, Calif."

The letter was delivered correctly to H. S. MacCormack and Associates, 522 Security building, Glendale, without any appreciable delay.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

REDUCING DURING PREGNANCY

Mrs. H.—You are nearly forty pounds overweight. You say you are pregnant and want to know if it will be harmful for you to reduce. You have a ravenous appetite and have dizzy headaches and heartburn a great deal and are very nervous. You have pains on both sides of the abdomen and you want to know if that means you are going to have twins.

No, it is not harmful to reduce the first five months during pregnancy, if the reducing is done very gradually, not over a pound a week, and if the foods needed for the proper functioning of your own body and the proper growth of the baby are included in your reducing diet. That means that you should have at least one quart of milk a day for its protein, calcium and phosphorus (calcium and phosphorous are necessary for the baby's bones and teeth buds and complete protein for its muscles and for your repair needs); some nuts or cottage cheese, for still more protein; liberal helpings of fruits and vegetables for their mineral salts and vitamins and laxative effect. You should have whole grain cereals and breads in moderate amounts. The only things you should cut down on are your oils and fats and excess bread and cereals and sweet foods. You should take some bran or agar or mineral oil every day.

Your symptoms of dizziness and headaches are bad. If you continue gratifying this ravenous appetite, which is largely a habit, you may suffer from convulsions of pregnancy and perhaps lose your baby and perhaps your own life. Physicians are now watching the weight as well as the blood pressure, urine and other things. If the weight is normal, a gain of from fifteen to twenty pounds during the nine months of pregnancy is sufficient to allow for the weight of the baby.

There is not much growth of the fetus for the first five months. So during that five months, you can have a loss in weight. During the last four months, if your weight is stationary, that would indicate that you yourself were losing in weight.

You should be under the care of a physician. See him at least every month during the first five months, about twice a month the next three months and every week or perhaps oftener the last month. No, the pains you have in both sides of your abdomen would not indicate twins. Occasionally there are slight pains in the abdomen, due to pressure, but see your physician about this.

CARE OF BREASTS

Mrs. G.—Sometimes the milk does not wholly leave the breasts after weaning, for some weeks or possibly months. Every time you try to express the milk to see if there is any there, you stimulate the glands and keep the milk forming, so just leave them alone. It's best to wear a firm support. I am glad you have had such good results from following our advice on children's diets.

Mrs. W.—We have a list of modern books on Infant and Child Feeding, which list you may have by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

REDUCING WHILE NURSING

Mrs. M.—After the first three days, if you go on a liquid diet, it is best not to lose more than two pounds a week. Even less would be better while nursing the baby. I think that because you are nursing your baby now, it would be better not to go on the three-day liquid diet. Start right in on the 1200 calories, as per directions in the pamphlet. See answer to Mrs. H. above. It also applies to you. Did you include a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your 10 cents in stamps for the reducing pamphlet? If not, try again.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lancing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir:

I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate soured on my stomach. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Krumbled Bran. I tried it, as I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening.

Yours sincerely,
Frank Lancing,
1306 Jefries Ave., Marion, Ind.

For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary brans, which are unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

ANGELS TROUNCE SEALS ONCE MORE

Home Team Takes Game by 8 to 1 Score; Seattle Is Now Close to Top

By THREE STRIKES
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—It was a big day for the Angels at Washington park yesterday and, playing the national pastime with utmost dexterity, the Los Angeles Seraphs trounced the league leading Seals to the decisive tune of 8 to 1. The series now stands 3 to 1 in favor of the home crew, and today's victory shoves the Angels into fifth place.

George Payne, on the mound, combined with the efforts of Cedric Durst, Angel energetic centerfielder, weilding the stick, meant much in bringing about victory for the Krug outfit. Durst slammed out two home runs in his first couple trips to the plate. Both times the hustling Cedric smacked for a circuit clout Whaley was on base and on both occasions the pill landed well up in the right field bleachers. Payne, on the hilltop, allowed six hits in the first four frames, but for the rest of the distance held the anxious Seals to one lone safety.

Some Stick Work

Skipper Krug and Jenkins did their stuff with the stick, Marty gathering three hits in a like number of trips to the plate, while the latter sent the ball out of the lot with one man on in the fifth.

Bob Geary started for the visitors, but was relieved by Hanky Schorr in the sixth, the latter being nicked for one tally his first inning on the mound.

Seattle got a little closer to the top of the ladder yesterday when they defeated Portland 5 to 2. The Indians took an early lead and were never in danger.

The Vernon Tigers came out the victors in a closely contested battle yesterday with Oakland by a 3 to 2 score. The Oaks rallied in the ninth but lacked one run from tying the score.

CARDINALS CLASH WITH NEW YORK

Brooklyn, Six Points Back Of Leaders, Not Down For Game Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The dash down the home stretch in the National league started today as the western teams began their final swing through the east.

Brooklyn, 6 points behind the Giants, was idle today while the champions crossed bats with the tempermental Cardinals. The Pirates prepared to make the most of an opportunity to gain at the expense of the tail-end Braves.

The American league race was tighter today as a result of New York's double victory yesterday. The Yankees are now one game behind the Senators and four games in front of the Tigers, steaming along in third place.

The Yankees tripped up the Red Sox twice, 4 to 3 and 8 to 3, and moved to within a game of Washington. The Babe's forty-fifth homer saved the champions from being hashed in the first game.

The Senators made it three out of four from the Athletics, romping home under wraps by a score of 7 to 4.

It took Brooklyn eleven innings to down the Phillies, 8 to 7, as eight pitchers fell by the wayside. The Dodgers are now 6 points behind the Giants.

The Tigers nosed out the White Sox in the tenth, 5 to 4, on a single by Jones. The Cobb men pickled Faber's slants for eleven hits.

Fifty-one hits were made off fourteen pitchers as the Indians won two batting orgies from the Browns, 12 to 7 and 10 to 6.

Eagles Defeat Coons; Seals Trim Wolves

The Eagles flew away with two games from the Coons in last night's match at the Recreation center bowling alleys, and the Seals took three straight from the Wolves. Tonight's game will see the Foxes and the Tigers rolling them in the test for leadership. Last night's scores were as follows:

SOX HAVE CHANCE FOR TITLE AGAIN

Glendale Squad Will Meet Inglewood Sunday; Play Protested Game

The Glendale White Sox will have another opportunity to battle for the semi-pro championship of Southern California next Sunday when they meet the Inglewood aggregation at the San Fernando road ball park, and play the game made necessary by the allowance of the protest on the contest a week ago last Sunday.

The opening game of the semi-pro title series was played here and went to Inglewood after fourteen innings of real ball playing, but it was protested by Boss Carl Sawyer when Umpire Brain, working on third base line, sent Hirigoyen back to third in the opening stanza after a thrown ball had hit Brain. That score, if allowed, would have enabled the White Sox to beat Inglewoid 2 to 1, but the score at the end of fourteen innings was 3 to 1 in favor of Inglewood.

The second game was just as tight. It was played last Sunday at Inglewood and wound up 2 to 1 in favor of Inglewood, after nine innings of air tight ball, in which Haycox, pitching ace for Inglewood, fanned sixteen men.

Haycox To Pitch.

Haycox will pitch against the White Sox again Sunday. On the mound for Glendale will be Clink, who held the Bay District league leaders down to four hits last Sunday, and allowed only eight scattered bingles in fourteen innings the week before.

File will do the receiving for the invaders, while Tellez will work behind the plate for the local team. The lineup for Glendale will be the same, Shellenbach at first; Sawyer at second; Shields at third; Hirigoyen at short; Young in left field; Dorman in center field and Krohn in right.

The lineup for Inglewood will include Stanley in center field; Palmer at short; Bell at first; Chamberlain in right field; Scott at second; McMullin at third and Barrett in left field. It is presumed the same three umpires will work—Leischner behind the plate, Kibby at first and Brain at third.

FIGHT RESULTS

AT JERSEY CITY—Harry Wills, New Orleans, outpointed Luis Firpo, twelve rounds; Bill Tate, New York, knocked out John Casanova, Porto Rico, first round; Jim Maloney, Boston, outpointed Joe Stossel, New York, six rounds; Mike Burke, New York, fought eight round draw with Charlie Nashert, Jersey City; Charley McKenna, New York, fought four round draw with Miguel Ferrera, Argentine; Joe Silvani, New York, outpointed Carl Johnson, New York, four rounds.

AT INDIANAPOLIS—Romero Rojas, Chilean heavyweight, knocked out Joe McCanna, Newark, fifth round; Harry Reese knocked out Joe Thompson, New York, fourth round.

DICK HOPPE AND MANDELL TO BOX

Glendalian Meets Illinoisan In Hollywood Legion Ring Tonight

Dick Hoppe, Glendale lightweight, will be the first opponent of Sammy Mandell, Chicago flash, when the Illinois whirlwind makes his debut in the four-round racket on the coast. The meeting place is the Hollywood American Legion stadium and the time is tonight. Mandell has been in California several weeks looking over the fighting game here, but tonight will be his first appearance in ring togs west of Denver.

Hoppe is anxious to get a crack at the lightweight title now held by Johnny Adams of San Bernardino, and in order to get it he must make a good showing against Mandell tonight. Mandell is also anxious to hook up with Adams, so it will be a case of the best fighter getting a chance at the title.

For the special bout, Joe Medina and Jack Griff have been signed by Matchmaker Tom Kennedy, with Frankie Osner and Felix Villamore mixing in the semi-windup. The semi-windup is one of the elimination bouts in the bantamweight title class. Other bouts will be: Mannie Kaplan and Dude Martinez, Frankie Novey and Billy Stratton, Soldier Brown and Joe Burns and Sid Boniface and Young McNulty.

BEARS HARD HIT LOSING VETERANS

Tough Season Ahead for Coach Andy Smith and His Raw Material

By JERRY LEVIN
Written for The Evening News

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Sept. 12.—Andy Smith, producer of California wonder football teams for the past several seasons, is not optimistic over the chances of the Bruin eleven for the coming season. With but four veterans left from last year's team and one of the hardest seasons ahead it has had in years, it looks like a tough season ahead for the Bears. Captain Babe Horrell at center, Dana Carey at guard, Snook Mell at end and Jimmy Dixon are the four veterans who will form the nucleus for the 1924 squad.

Compared to the three most difficult teams the Bruins will have to meet this season, their chances look very weak. Stanford, U. S. C. and Washington all have eight veterans left from their teams of last year, and all had good freshman squads last season from which they may draw many good experienced men. However, Andy Smith and his staff of coaches composed of Nibs Price, Boles Rosenthal, Brick Muller and Hoggy "Goof" Evans and Don Newmeyer, all experienced football mentors, have not given up hope for a formidable eleven.

Movies May Aid 'Em

It is likely that motion pictures will constitute a vital part of the training given to football players at the University of California, according to Raymond W. Cortelyou, athletic manager.

A new syster of visual training to be used in place of the customary "chalk talks" given players is being perfected by Richard H. Laney, a senior student from Los Angeles. Laney's plan is to take motion pictures of the team in action, showing the location and movement of each play for any man desired.

Experimental tests were recently approved by Cortelyou, Coaches Andy Smith and Nibs Price and Captain Babe Horrell.

Varsity football at the university was officially organized Wednesday at a gridiron sign-up rally called by Coach Andy Smith, who opened the meeting, explaining what was expected of candidates for the team. Following Smith, the meeting was addressed by "Nibs" Price, "Brick" Muller, Boles Rosenthal, Dan McMillan, "Stew" Beam, "Hoggy" Evans, "Fat" Latham, Don Newmeyer and this year's captain, "Babe" Horrell.

Those who predict defeat for California this year would have been interested in the large number of prospects at the initial meeting. However, with only four varsity veterans back, California has run up against a tough situation this year. U. S. C., Washington and Stanford all have a much greater number of men to work with. These head the list of conference teams that will endeavor to pull the Bear off his perch this fall.

Salt Lake made it three straight over Sacramento by defeating the Solons yesterday, 7 to 5.

WILLS IS WINNER BUT THAT'S ALL

Colored Chap Unable to Display Real Punch to Finish Up Firpo

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Taking due advantage of the fact that general attention was diverted elsewhere, for no reason at all, a modishly elegant gent with a reconstructed Greek profile and a politely bored expression, suddenly arose from a ringside seat between the eighth and ninth round at Boyle's Thirty Acres and tiptoed out in the night. The gentleman in question was William Harrison Dempsey, doing a walkout on the twelve-round frolic involving Harry Wills and Luis Angel Firpo, alleged to be his foremost challengers. He had seen enough.

The champion was conservative at that. The writer, among others, had seen more than enough. It was that kind of a fight, to so term it for lack of a better name. As one distressed eye-witness expressed the general sentiment, Firpo couldn't and Wills wouldn't. The colored man carried eleven of the twelve rounds, the other being even, and from first to last was the winner away off by himself, but his victory left much to be desired and a dark brown taste in the mouth.

Punch Not There

Wills should have finished his man after scoring a knockdown in the second round with a right to the jaw, but he lacked the necessary punch. Firpo was ready for the end at any time thereafter. It came never, largely because Wills either couldn't or wouldn't slug with the Latin after it was demonstrated to everyone's satisfaction that the senor's right arm was harmless. Only Wills' supercaution or super-impotence carried the affair along to a dreary conclusion.

At the end, Firpo's body was a cerise mass of welts from Wills' punishing right, applied to the stomach and kidneys times without number by the colored man's usual expedient of holding Firpo with his left hand and socking him with his right. Luis liked this not at all and complained bitterly to Referee Danny Sullivan that Wills was violating the rules, but apparently the so-called Brown Panther must be accepted as a foul fighter, if he is to be accepted at all. He cannot seem to hit effectively otherwise.

Presents Old Alibi

Sullivan cautioned Wills repeatedly in the late rounds and this seemed to cramp Harry's style no little. Perhaps that was the reason Wills failed to score a knockout. Paddy Mullins, his manager, also horned in with the alibi that he had broken his right hand in the fourth round, a singularly unoriginal idea. Our guess is that Wills simply lacked the finishing punch.

The tip-off is that neither man sufficiently interested Dempsey to keep that restive soul on and above the premises. Wills won, but was unimpressive. Firpo lost. Neither, therefore, can or will occasion a serious misgiving on the part of the champion.

Both, in fact, were made the target of no inconsiderable abuse from the gentlemen of the press this morning, Firpo being the shining victim. Some said that he landed only one telling punch, which was a gross exaggeration. He landed two telling punches. The first came in the seventh round and the second in the ninth, both being right-handers to the body. They hurt Wills, no mistake.

Yet the bull's right was a weakling weapon for the most part. All the snap seemed to have gone out of it after the second round knockdown, which, by the way, was quite within the code, in spite of claims that Wills hit Firpo on the break. It was a vicious, lightning fast right swing, launched out suddenly after the men had been separated. Firpo's head hit the floor as he went down, and few looked for further activities. But the bull was clean, straight game. His standing up before Wills' body punishment for the rest of the fight proved that.

Ever and anon he shot the famed right hand for Wills' head, but it landed all too seldom and even then it seemed to lack power. It is probable that the arm was deadened by Wills' vice-like clutch in the clinches, the negro using his superior strength to spike Firpo's favorite weapon every time he got in close.

But why, when he discovered that Firpo was harmless, he failed to open up and try for a knockout in the late rounds will forever remain a mystery to the writer. Only by a knockout could Wills hope to convince the skeptics. Yet he made no serious effort to score one after the second round.

CHAPTER I.

"This pretty pose of being always the mother, the woman of ice—Galatea!—the busy good sister who watches and guards her bad boy, that is charming," the man added presently, after a palpitating pause, and in a deep, almost stern voice. "But underneath she is like the others, is it not so? There is a woman here, flesh and blood, that cries out for life—that can live, and love, and suffer——"

"Konrad!" she whispered, sharply. For his arm was about her now, and he had turned her with the strong pressure of his fingers on her soft arm so that she was close against his breast, protestant, frightened, terrified eyes upon his oddly dark and passionate face. "Why, Konrad, dear ——" she breathed, trying to push him away, and trying to laugh.

"Kiss me!" he said, in an undertone, his lips close to hers. And in an instant he had kissed her, was kissing her rather, she thought in an agonized confusion of body and soul, for it seemed to last for an eternity. Her heart beating against his own rapidly beating heart, the nearness of his face, the shaken lock of black hair that touched her forehead, here in the secret blackness of the night, all conspired to frighten her.

"Kiss me!" he said again, in the same tone, barely releasing her before she felt the fury of his embrace again.

And this time the fire in her own being, unsuspected, but waiting through all these dutiful, happy, busy years for its hour, sprang into sudden flame; she was in his arms, she was young, beautiful, trembling with love and life, and beloved! All the starved impulses of her life burned in her, she was carried away from all consciousness of time or place; she knew only his arms, the faint fragrance of his skin and hair, and the fire of his lips.

"Konrad!" she said presently; they were in the hallway now, and although his hands still imprisoned both hers, they were not so close, and bending like wheat in a breeze, she could gather her routed thought for a second and hold him somewhat apart. "Konrad!" she gasped, fighting for mere breath now, "what are we doing—we must be mad——"

"No, we are not mad!" he answered, in his low, trembling tone, entirely unconscious of what he said, and overwhelming her again. "My beautiful—my lovely girl—my dearest!" he murmured over and over. Hilary was really frightened now, of what she did not quite know, but—but—her struggling senses warned her, there was danger here!

She was free, and he was standing still, watching her. Half-dazed, and only anxious to escape, she stumbled down the little passage and went blindly back through the door into the big studio.

It was fortunate for Hilary that the company was not critical and the lights dim. For a few minutes it was impossible for her to gather her thoughts together, or to control her breathing, and the trembling of her muscles that shook her from head to foot. Her mouth was dry, her face aflame, her hair was at least somewhat disordered, and her lips burned as if their secret were written on them for all the world to read.

Not knowing what she did, she sat down next to Kasha; someone was singing—thank heaven she could seem to be listening and need not speak! Slowly the storm subsided, she breathed more evenly; she could covertly put a hand to her hair, and push a hairpin into place; she could take her handkerchief and touch with it the lips that still were trembling.

"And your car is here, Miss Collier," Kasha said, regretfully, during the applause. "It came while you and Kronski were playing, but my grandmother wouldn't let me tell you!"

"Oh, my dear——!" Hilary exclaimed, aghast at the hour. When she and Kronski were playing! It seemed eons ago. She arose, only afraid of betraying to them all that was seething and throbbing in her heart, her eyes, her voice. As the beautiful figure, in its silver and black, slowly crossed the floor, Kronski came quietly in, and fell into talk with Von Mandescheid, who was at the piano. Hilary heard his voice, behind her, her heart began to thump again——

She was in Etelka's bedroom, in her furs; old Vanni himself pattered down the long stairway with her, and put her into the car. She fancied, as she left the apartment, that somebody opened the studio door and looked out; several persons, perhaps, she did not turn. It was with a great sense of safety that she gained the warm limousine, waved goodnight to her bareheaded bowing old host, upon the pavement, and knew herself to be at last alone.

Now she could think! she told herself breathlessly. But it was a long time before her thoughts would shape themselves into anything like order. They wheeled about her like wild birds; she laughed erratically, settled herself back against the cushions with shut eyes, opened them suddenly and leaned against the glass to watch the moving streets, thrust her hands deep into the pockets of her coat, changed her position, and repeated the whole process from beginning to end.

She exchanged a sociable goodnight with the chauffeur, fled upstairs in the warm darkness, flashed into her room and shut the door behind her with both hands, whirling about to face the empty room, and laughing excitedly, as if a thousand eyes were upon her. In the mirror she exchanged another excited laugh with her brilliant counterpart. Going to bed was a dream-like, timeless process, now carried on with feverish swiftness, now arrested entirely, while Hilary sat transfixed, smiling into space, her eyes like sapphire stars.

"Not So Fast" drew another big crowd last night at the tent theatre of Mahurin's Players (Murphy's Comedians), Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo.

So great is the popularity of this play, according to Manager J. A. Menard, that it is surprising even the troupe, who have seldom had such ovations as they are enjoying this week. The curtain rises nightly at 8 o'clock.

It is because of the sparkle and dash of the play that it gets the big applause every night. No one can sit on his hands and see this offering. It is all laughs except the thrills and there are plenty of the latter.

"Not So Fast" is good, clean fun, and the children are getting as big a kick out of it as the grown-ups, declares Mr. Menard. The only way to be sure of seeing the show is to come early or get tickets in advance at J. J. Schulte's drug store, 251 North Brand boulevard.

Film Star Begins on Small Wage and Seems to Thrive on Work

William Farnum, star of the Paramount picture, "The Man Who Fights Alone," which will be shown today and Saturday at the Gateway theatre, started work for the magnificent sum of $3.75 per week. He ran errands for the village grocer in his old home town of Bucksport, Maine.

During the winter his salary increased to $1 a day, and for this he would put in a strenuous ten hours on the river at twenty below zero, cutting ice. He survived and thrived on it, and attributes his strength and robust health to the solid foundation of hard work laid in his youth.

Lois Wilson and Edward Horton are featured opposite the star in "The Man Who Fights Alone," an adaptation of the original story, "The Miracle of Hate."

Bargains Offered In Kafateria Shoe Sale

An outstanding event in local merchandising circles is the Clean-up Shoe sale that is now being held by the Kafateria Shoe Store, 126 North Brand boulevard, in which thousands of pairs of the latest models in men's, women's and children's footwear are being offered at sacrifice prices.

Not only are the latest styles offered in this sale, but the materials in which the shoes come are bewildering in their variety, adhering to the most recent dictates in fashionable footwear, and the opportunity that is offered to purchase shoes at these prices, officials of the Kafateria Shoe Store declare, is one that has seldom been equalled in Glendale.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LATE FIREFLY

While hopping through the woods one afternoon Uncle Wiggily heard a little, teeny, weeny voice calling:

"Help! Help! Please help me!"

"That can't be the Fox or the Wolf," thought the bunny rabbit gentleman to himself. The voice isn't loud enough. It sounds more like Baby Bunty or one of my friends, the Squiggle Bugs."

Again the voice—such a little baby voice—called:

"Isn't anybody ever going to help me? If you don't help me pretty soon it will be too late!"

"Who are you and where are you and what sort of help do you want?" called Mr. Longears out loud.

"I am a late lightning bug," was the answer. "Some call me a firefly, but I won't be anything if you don't help me pretty soon. I have fallen in the brook and I can't paddle out, nor swim, for my wings are all wet."

In two hops and part of another, Uncle Wiggily was at the edge of the brook. There, flipping about in the water, he saw a poor little firefly, who had fallen in.

"Poor chap! I'll get you out," said Uncle Wiggily, and, with a branch from a bush, the bunny saved the lightning bug from drowning in the brook.

"You are very kind," said the firefly, as he crawled out in the sun to dry himself.

"Don't speak of it," answered Uncle Wiggily modestly. "But why do you call yourself a late firefly? Do you belong to the hollow stump school? If so, you are indeed late."

"No, it isn't that," the lightning bug said, lifting his wings and showing a pale gleam of fire, which would be very bright at night. I said I was late because I should not flitter around now. Here it is September, and we flies are supposed to hide away for the winter not later than August. But, very foolishly, I lingered around, and now I am late—all my friends are fast asleep, waiting for next summer. I, too, must fly away, and I had started when I fell into the brook. Thank you for taking me out."

Pray don't mention it," said Uncle Wiggily again, modest-like and shy. Then he hopped on his way and the firefly sat in the sun to dry his wings so he could fly away to find a place to sleep until next year.

That night, in his hollow stump bungalow, Uncle Wiggily was sleeping in bed when, all of a sudden, he heard a queer noise at the door. It was a scratching, rattling sound. And then the bunny heard a voice growl:

"We'll soon break in and grab him!" It was the Woozie Wolf and the Fuzzy Fox.

"Oh, dear!" thought the rabbit. "The bad chaps are going to get me! What shall I do?"

"And then, all of a sudden the Wolf cried:

"Come on, Mr. Fox, you'd better run away! Here comes the Police Dog with his lantern! He'll arrest us!" So away from Uncle Wiggily's front door, which they were trying to break open, ran the bad chaps.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the firefly as he flickered in the air, showing his strange light. "I fooled the Fox and Wolf, Uncle Wiggily! I was just flying past to say goodbye to you and they took me for the Police Dog. Ha! Ha! I fooled them!"

"I'm glad you did!" chuckled the bunny, as he crept back into bed. "You did me a greater favor than I did you!" Then the firefly flew on his way, flickering his gleaming lantern, and Mr. Longears went safely to sleep. And the Fox and Wolf may be running away yet for all I know.

Anyhow, if the loaf of bread doesn't cry when it's going to sleep, because it can't take the butter to bed with it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the sun flower.

-:- TODAY'S NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY! -:-

Mayor Robinson's Proclamation

"Whereas, the president of the United States has approved the plans of the secretary of war to set aside Friday, September 12, 1924, as National Defense day, and

"Whereas, the World war demonstrated that the lack of preparedness and training were the direct cause of colossal waste in both lives and material, and

"Whereas, the reduction of standing army and armament can only be accomplished by perfecting the organized reserves, whereby the civilian population, which is the backbone of national defense, can be organized and equipped without waste of time or material, and

"Whereas, September 12 is the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel, the first major operation in the World war which was composed entirely of American troops, and this day will be observed in every military post and in practically every city and town in the United States, which event will provide instruction for persons in the military service and will also afford an opportunity for the regular army, national guard, organized reserves, veterans' societies and other military and citizens' organizations to conduct parades, programs and a mobilization test of the organized reserves, for the purpose of testing the plans which have already been made for the mobilization of such units and to familiarize the officers concerned with the duties with which they would be charged in the event that their organizations were actually mobilized in time of war.

"Now, therefore, I, Spencer Robinson, as mayor of the city of Glendale, do hereby proclaim Friday, September 12, 1924, as a day set aside in the city of Glendale, to demonstrate a spirit of loyalty and cooperation between the civilian population and civic bodies, and those who are devoting their energies toward the formation of a national defense system.

"As the American Legion is the one official organization of those who served during the World war and those who suffered most by our lack of adequate preparedness; I hereby appoint Post No. 127, American Legion, which is the Glendale unit of that body, to take complete charge of the program and to arrange such parades and ceremonies as it deems fit. The Legion will have the hearty support and co-operation of the officials of this city, and I call upon each and every civic body to lend the Legion the same hearty support and co-operation.

(Signed) SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor of the City of Glendale.

WE all want universal and everlasting peace, though we differ honestly as to the best method of obtaining it. The sentiment against maintaining a large standing army and navy has been growing steadily, and nearly all are now agreed that competition with other nations in building up a vast military machine and naval armament is nothing more than glorifying war and nourishing the war spirit. On the other hand, total unpreparedness is still more dangerous, being an invitation to other countries to attack us. Cupidity and love of conquest still dwell in the hearts of nations and we must take this into account.

So most of us take the middle ground. We do not believe in glorifying war or in making great preparations for war, but we do believe in being ready to defend ourselves if need be. Thus the call of the War Department upon the Nation to observe Defense Day was entirely logical, and, although there was some opposition to it, based on misunderstanding of the government plan, as well as the extent of our military organization, the majority of the people throughout the country are co-operating with the War Department and the administration today.

The observance of Defense Day is in keeping with the aims of the National Defense Law of 1920, and, according to President Coolidge, has two objectives, a test of our military strength and a patriotic demonstration.

The present administration sponsored the Washington Conference for the limitation of armaments and voluntarily agreed to reduce the naval strength of the United States to exactly that of Great Britain, and so can scarcely be accused of militaristic motives in planning for the observance of Defense Day.

May Defense Day be carried out in the spirit in which it was called. May it achieve the purpose intended: to give our first line of defense an idea of what is expected of it in case it should ever be called upon; to demonstrate to the people of the United States that there is still patriotism in the hearts of the people; and that there are still men who would spring to the defense of their homes and their country against a foreign invader. Six years have passed since the signing of the armistice, but world peace and national security have not yet been achieved. We do not want another war, but we do want men who would defend us in an hour of peril.

Cheer Evening News For Picnic Publicity

Three cheers were given The Glendale Evening News last night by Spanish War veterans and their families picnicking in Brookside park, for the splendid publicity given the picnic.

Over fifty adults and children enjoyed the evening in the park. At 6:30 o'clock a sumptuous picnic dinner was served, with ice cream and coffee furnished by the Women's Auxiliary of the Glendale camp.

The Camp and Auxiliary are to hold meetings next Wednesday night in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard at Park avenue. Plans are to be made for a membership campaign.

Veterans in Glendale will be interested to learn that Mrs. Wheeler of the Auxiliary made a special trip to Elsinore today to investigate rumors that veterans are to be given preference in homesteading land in the Coachella valley.

City Officials Plan To Take Fishing Trip

The Glendale city officials will adjourn practically en masse to the good ship "Anabel" on Sunday, off San Pedro, where they will attempt to retrieve their lost laurels as disciples of that celebrated angler, Isaak Walton. On a recent trip of similar kidney, it will be recalled, they brought back not so much as grunion.

Virgil B. Stone, city manager, will pilot the ship of state, with the aid of Captain Larson, Lieutenant W. J. Royle of the Glendale police department officiating on the port side and "Shorty" Thompson of the city garage on the starboard. Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, will endeavor to render medical assistance as needed.

Dr. Russell Farnham Speaker to Physicians

Dr. Russell W. Farnham gave a talk at the luncheon meeting yesterday of the Glendale Physicians' club at the Alley Inn on South Brand boulevard. There were eleven physicians present. Dr. O. A. Deitrich, president, was in charge.

Special guests attending with Dr. A. E. Mack were Dr. G. H. Peck, who spoke, and Dr. Henry A. Johnson, both of whom are opening offices in Glendale.

At Sanitarium

Special Correspondence

The friends of Harold Mosedale, who some days ago met with a serious accident, will be glad to learn that he is slowly improving at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Mr. Mosedale, while riding a motorcycle, had a collision with an automobile and sustained serious internal injuries. Among other things three of his ribs were broken, one of them just missing penetrating the heart itself by a hair's breadth, and another rib lacerating a portion of one lung. One arm was broken and several other minor injuries were sustained. Small hope was held for the patient's recovery, especially after a short time pneumonia set in. But, at the present time the patient is doing much better than could be expected and there is hope for his ultimate recovery.

Several members of the recent graduating class are remaining and taking positions of responsibility in the Sanitarium and Hospital. Among these Mrs. Jeanne Dupes has charge of the receiving desk in the medical offices. Miss Myrtle Hanks is night supervisor on the third floor of the Sanitarium. Miss Clara Schafer has charge of the night operating room work at the hospital. Miss Margaret Squiers is day supervisor of the third floor of the sanitarium. Miss Margaret Jackson is supervisor of the second floor. Miss Irene Giles, at present away on a vacation, will also act as a floor supervisor upon her return. The remaining members of the class are away on a vacation or have returned to their own homes. All the class are looking forward with interest to the coming state board examination which is to be held in October.

J. E. Moore, medical dietician, gave a very interesting and instructive talk last night in the parlors of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital on "Food Values and Bodily Requirements."

In connection with his talk he gave a food demonstration, illustrating the different food elements. He also showed the necessity of a balanced diet containing the proper amount of proteins, minerals and other substances, and proving the necessity of the vitamins and calories.

Kiwanians Plan to Entertain Children

William G. Bode reported to the Kiwanis club at today's luncheon that plans are under way to entertain 4000 Glendale children this Hallowe'en, October 31, at the biggest annual party of the kind ever given by the club. The luncheon was held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, corner of North Central avenue and Lexington drive, President A. L. Baird presiding.

P. J. Hayselden, chief of the Glendale unit, Angeles Forest Protective association, reported that it is hoped to have the forest fire near Monrovia under control by 5 o'clock this afternoon. James F. McBryde spoke briefly on the purpose of Defense Day. J. Arthur Myers led the members and their guests in singing "America the Beautiful," after which the club proceeded in a body to the corner of North Brand boulevard and Lexington drive, where they joined the parade.

Directors of Research Hospital Vote Dividend

The board of directors of the Glendale Research hospital, meeting in the Roy L. Kent offices at 130 South Brand boulevard, yesterday afternoon, declared a 5 per cent dividend, payable October 1 to stockholders of record as of September 1.

This is the third dividend the hospital has paid in little more than a year, the board paying 6 per cent, August 1923, and 5 per cent in March of this year.

Dr. E. L. Settles, one of the directors, resigned his position on account of his health, and was succeeded by Dr. T. C. Young. The other officers, H. E. Hall, president, and A. L. Baird, secretary-treasurer, retain their positions.

MUSIC FEATURES OPTIMISTS' MEET

Club Cuts Program Short to Participate In Parade In Defense Test

The program at the weekly meeting of the Optimist club at the Alley Inn today was rushed through, in order to permit the members to participate in the Defense Day parade.

The entertainment provided by D. W. Hepburn consisted of several musical numbers played by Miller & Marco, a musical team, who were secured through Fred Roberts, and a magician, Harry Shagetta, another friend of Mr. Roberts'. Albert Strauss, of the Strauss School of Music, rendered a piano solo; H. C. Hamilton sang a solo, and William Anderson, of the Burr Creamery company, rendered several songs and told a number of dialect stories.

Problem of Youth

Paul Webb announced that the principal speaker for next week will be Dr. J. Harold Williams, of the Los Angeles Diagnostic Clinic of Psychiatry and Psychology, and would talk on juvenile delinquency.

A plea for 100 per cent attendance at all open forum meetings was made by Eugene Wix, following an account of last night's meeting at the Oakmont Country club.

Republicans Plan For Election Battle

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—Organization of the Republican county central committee was effected at a meeting here Wednesday afternoon and complete plans were made for the party's campaign to be conducted throughout Los Angeles county during the next eight weeks. A resolution endorsing the candidacy of President Coolidge, General Dawes and the platform of the party was unanimously adopted.

Ralph Arnold was unanimously re-elected chairman of the body. Other officers to be re-elected were W. E. Evans of Glendale, first vice chairman, and Parley M. Johnson, treasurer. Mrs. Harriet W. Works and George B. Bush were elected second vice chairman and secretary, respectively. These persons will hold office for the two-year period to which the county committee members were elected at the August 26 primary. John Robert White, Jr., of Glendale was appointed chairman of the organization committee.

In addition to the resolution endorsing President Coolidge and General Dawes, two other resolutions were adopted by the committee. These provide for a drive to bring about increased registration and balloting and for a general plan of decentralization of the committee's activities. The latter resolution will cause the creation of a sub-committee to direct the activities of the body in each assembly district of the county.

Odd Fellows Learn Of Proposed Hospital

Glendale Odd Fellows held a regular meeting last night in the lodge room on West Broadway. A large company of visitors were present and were presented as speakers. Mr. Stewart of Phoenix gave a discussion of the proposed national tuberculosis sanitarium, stating that a west location was favored. O. S. Sampson of the Glendale lodge has withdrawn to become a charter member of the lodge being formed at Lankershim. District Deputy Grand Master Wilde of Van Nuys was a special guest. He announced the institution October 21 of the Lankershim lodge.

New Lodge of Odd Fellows Is Furthered

Further organization of the Verdugo Hills Odd Fellows' lodge took place last night at the L. E. Thompson home. Carl E. Wilde, D. D. G. N., of Van Nuys, was present and gave several helpful suggestions to the new officers. A. C. Cox of La Crescenta was named treasurer. There will be another meeting next Thursday night.

that six years ago today the American army fought for the first time on a foreign soil, in cooperation with the forces of other nations and under its own commanders.

His address dealt largely with an explanation of what the national defense act means to the people of the present generation and to the generations to come, and he contrasted the conditions that prevailed when President Wilson declared war on Germany, with the delay of eighteen months that elapsed before American troops could take the field against the enemy, and the attendant confusion and unpreparedness, to what ought to exist in a well prepared nation that has its man power and resources in shape for immediate mobilization in the event of another outbreak.

would certainly not improve matters. It is understood money is available and will be spent on improving the reservoir grounds with lawns and shrubs.

Discuss Uniform Grade

The question of establishing a uniform grade on Glen Oaks boulevard between Burbank and Grand View avenue was next discussed and it is expected that some satisfactory progress will be made before the next meeting.

The association went on record as favoring the changing of the name of Tenth street, this being one of the last streets in Glendale with a numerical name.

C. L. Jenkins, chairman of the membership committee, announced plans for a big membership drive and appointed the following to assist in this work: Mr. Bowerman, Mrs. Percy D. Farrand, J. T. Jenkins, Mr. Springer, Mr. Gsell, Mrs. Moir, Mr. Kohl, Mrs. Peter Kelly and J. A. Gyger.

Telephone Service

The secretary was directed to write to the telephone company relative to getting all the telephones in the extreme northwest section of Glendale onto the Glendale exchange, instead of on the Burbank exchange where they now are.

Reports were made by committeemen on fire and police protection, house to house mail service, public utilities, and schools.

Due to lateness, the question on the widening of Western avenue was held over for discussion at the next meeting, October 9.

Mr. Randall presided and the attendance was large, filling the school room.

Glendale Music Co. Sells Schools Pianos

During the past week the Glendale Board of Education has purchased from the Glendale Music Co. at 118 South Brand boulevard, three Monarch pianos for use in the grammar schools.

The Monarch pianos are a fine piano made by the Baldwin Piano Co. and have been tested to give very satisfactory service. They have been placed in the Cerritos Avenue school, Magnolia Avenue school and the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school.

After considering prices quoted by other music stores it was found the Glendale Music Co. not only carried very moderate priced stock but also a very fine grade of dependable instruments.

A few years ago the corn root borer pest came to New York state in a shipment of broom corn from Austria.

He Sentenced 4 Young Men To Hang!

In broad daylight, they had murdered two bank messengers on the sidewalks of New York.

The Judge was James C. Cropsey. He had formerly been Police Commissioner. In passing sentence, he said, "Over 80% of our criminals are less than 25 years of age. Years of investigation have demonstrated to me that the vast majority of youthful offenders have had bad associates in the years when their boyhood was turning into manhood—between the ages of 12 and 18. Then a boy's ideals are acquired, his character formed. Tens of thousands of boys are nightly on the streets looking for amusement, seeking adventure, yearning for companionship. Should we not provide places where such boys may meet and play, be entertained and instructed? This is a practical thing. It can be done. Why should we not undertake it in a big way? MEN, this is a call on us. Are we awake? Do we hear it?"

Judge Cropsey did not know how pertinent his words were to Glendale. DURING THE SEVEN DAYS, SEPT. 16-23, WE ARE PASSING SENTENCE ON OUR OWN YOUNG MEN.

Let's not have to wait for the judges to do it after the mischief is all done.

Dividend Declared by People's Finance Co.

Another Glendale concern announces the declaration of a semi-annual dividend, another evidence of Glendale prosperity. Action was taken at the meeting yesterday of the board of directors of The People's Finance & Thrift Co., declaring a 5 per cent dividend payable October 1, 1924, to stockholders of record as of September 25, 1924.

The People's Finance & Thrift Co. was organized in March, 1923, and has made it possible for many hundreds of borrowers of good character and steady employment in Glendale to buy homes, clear their accounts with the local merchants, and otherwise assist in creating sounder financial conditions in their homes, it is declared.

In speaking of the company's operations, W. E. Lusby, manager, says:

"The need of a thrift company or mutual benefit organization such as we have has been amply demonstrated since our organization. Our success to date has been due not only to the need of such a company in the community, but to the integrity and conservatism of our board of directors, all of whom stand for the highest standards in business, and have a keen interest in the development of Glendale. Investors wishing gilt-edged security with a maximum of interest return can do no better than to investigate our 6 per cent investment certificates. With absolutely no losses of any kind to date, and with our record of earnings, money placed in our certificates could hardly be more safely invested."

Dr. L. L. Craven Host To Former Classmates

Dr. L. L. Craven of 540 North Louise street was happy yesterday to greet a former classmate at the University of Minnesota, Dr. Ralph L. Kirsch, who, with his family, has located in Pasadena. Dr. Kirsch was formerly connected with the Mayo clinic and has come to open a practice in the neighboring city.

Dr. and Mrs. Craven have just received word from their daughter, Marjorie, that she is to enter Albion college in Michigan. She is anticipating joining her parents in Glendale next spring.

C. C. Stillman Home Robbed of Clothing

The home of Charles C. Stillman at 1419 South Glendale avenue was burglarized just after dark last night, the thieves making away with garments reported by Mrs. Stillman to be worth $172. When the police arrived on the secene they were gone, but an overcoat belonging to Mr. Stillman was found in the yard, under a bush, indicating their precipitate flight.

Shipment of Raw Silk Largest In History

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 12.—Eighty-five hundred bales of Oriental raw silk brought from Japan on the steamer President Jefferson, are now on the way to New York in three special trains. Steamship officials say this is the largest single cargo of silk ever brought to an American port. It is valued at more than $8,000,000.

Studebaker To Reveal Innovations Embodied In New Models Sunday

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 12.—(Special)—A sensational development in motor car design, it is now definitely known, will be announced by Studebaker this coming Sunday. The car, which is said to be entirely unlike anything ever offered before, is a solution to the open-closed car problem which motorists have known since the "horseless carriage" first came into being.

The name of this revolutionary car, it is known, will be the Duplex Phaeton, and there will also be Duplex Roadsters, combining the outstanding advantages of present type open cars with the snug comfort and all-weather protection of the closed car.

Besides this new type car, reliable sources confirm the rumors that Studebaker will announce a new six, and fifteen all new body styles.

It is the first far-reaching announcement to be made by this famous manufacturer of fine cars since 1918. Studebaker, ever noteworthy for its innovations in motor car building, offered several revolutionary changes in automobiles in 1912. Then, in 1918, after a series of gradual refinements in its models, Studebaker gave to the world another entirely new model.

Now, in 1924, comes the third great cycle in Studebaker progress—which has maintained an important influence on the automobile industry as a whole, and on the benefits in which the public has shared.

Exact information regarding the secretly-designed new Studebaker is being carefully withheld until September 14. And, Studebaker officials declared today, they will rely on newspaper advertisements exclusively to inform the motoring public of the new motor cars.

Praises Fire Force For Efficient Work

Chief A. H. Lankford of the Glendale fire department is in receipt of a letter from C. A. Shephard of the National Ice & Cold Storage Co. of California, whose headquarters are in Los Angeles, comemnding his department for the efficient manner in which the fire that menaced their $100,000 plant at 450 Fernando court on August 27 was handled, the loss being held to $200. The letter follows:

"I desire to express my thanks for the prompt manner in which your department responded to the fire call from our Glendale ice plant and for the efficient and businesslike manner in which Captain Al Psenner, in command of Station No. 2, extinguished the burning trucks and roof, and saved the main factory from damage."

Electric Iron Cause Of Fire at Dye Works

Fire broke out at midnight in the plant of the Clean-Rite Dye works at 126 West Wilson avenue. Captain R. E. Dodsworth of the Glendale fire department answered the call with a crew from Station No. 1 and promptly extinguished the blaze, which was discovered to have originated from an electric iron accidentally left on when the shop was closed for the day. The damage was estimated not to exceed $35.

Defense Day Program At Valley Exposition

This is Defense Day at the San Fernando Valley Industrial exposition at Burbank, and a theme of patriotism runs through the entire program, which will include a sham battle in the afternoon, a street parade in the evening, band concert, pipe organ recital, and address at night by William F. Palmer of Los Angeles on the meaning and significance of Defense Day. The programs have been arranged for this occasion by the members of the National Guard and ex-service men, who will be assisted by Boy Scouts and other patriotic organizations.

It will also be San Fernando Valley day at large at the fall festival, and entertaining numbers are to be supplied for both programs by the several communities, Mission Acres leading with yodeling by Mrs. A. Gosser, who has yodeled her way into the hearts of Los Angeles music lovers, and is on the eve of departure on an extensive vaudeville circuit. She will be accompanied by zither. The exposition will close Saturday night, after a successful run of five days, with the daily attendance running from 5000 upward.

Humane Society Plans For Regular Quarters

Definite action for the establishment of permanent headquarters for the Glendale Humane society was taken last night at the society meeting in the City Hall, when announcement was made that a lot has been bought on Ivy street, in the industrial district and plans were submitted for the building to be erected on the property for humane purposes.

A drive for funds for the project is to be launched at an early date, and, in anticipation of this drive, the directors of the society have donated a generous sum to serve as a nucleus of the fund needed.

Under the leadership of Edwin Kulp the Glendale society is developing into an active civic organization. The wide interest manifest in its activities have resulted in plans for weekly meetings for members every Friday night in the Chamber of Commerce offices on South Brand boulevard.

Construction Company Begins New Hospital

The contract for the construction of the new hospital to be erected at Burbank by Dr. Elmer Thompson has been awarded to the General Construction company, 203 East Harvard street, Glendale, which has already started its men at work.

The building will be of three stories, with a roof garden for the patients, and will be of Class A construction throughout, built of reinforced concrete, says A. Schaff, manager of the firm. Twenty-four wards, besides the operating and X-ray rooms, will be fitted up in accordance witht the latest scientific requirements for the treatment of patients.

Wherever possible, says Mr. Schaff, all sub-contracts will be let to Glendale firms, those who have already filed bids being much lower than the figures received from outside concerns.

High Priced Amusement Program Of Reforestation Greater Growth Is Ahead Glendale's Defense Day

—By Gil A. Cowan—

Argentine's hero, undesirable alien in these United States, was outfought last night by his American negro opponent. Worthy contenders for heavyweight championship prize fighters, eh what?

Dempsey, master of fisticuffs, witnessed these fighters, for he is needing new material to wring wealth from those who like to be bamboozled.

Prize fighting, particularly championship matches, are sheerest bunk. They mean nothing. Certainly, they do not improve the race. And it is high-priced amusement.

With large areas of brush land burned, timber land exhausted by lumber interests, it is time for California to adopt a large program of reforestation.

Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena has already made possible first steps. His program is worthy of both legislative and public approbation.

Forests are essential to life. That's not to be forgotten. True, tribes live in desert lands, but who wants to follow their nomadic trail?

Glendale's first unit of sewer bonds has been sold. Work will be pushed to make this city's sanitary facilities complete.

In another year present obsolete and unsatisfactory methods of sewage disposal will be replaced. Large buildings will be built. Glendale will grow as never before.

And Glendale will find that it needs more things such as parks, garbage incinerators, and so on. Citizens will be given an opportunity to vote for various improvements at a bond election shortly.

Glendale's Defense Day demonstration this afternoon will speak for itself. At this writing one cannot predict how many able-bodied male citizens will enroll, but there is no doubt about Los Angeles making its quota.

Few communities are there which will not do more than expected of them. And their actions will be answer enough for parlor pacifists who essayed to criticize President Coolidge's proclamation of Defense Day.

C. M. Nelson Tells of Visiting Bay Cities

C. M. Nelson of 1135 North Adams place, who left Wednesday for Quebec, Can., to attend the sixtieth anniversary celebration of the Travelers' Insurance company, which he represents in Glendale, sent a postal card to The Glendale Evening News from San Francisco. He says:

"Spent the day in San Francisco calling on my companies. I went to Berkeley and saw the ruins of the big fire last year. Leave tonight for Seattle."

Mr. Nelson is a member of a special Southern California party, traveling in a special car.
